

Penn
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

RESEARCHER REGISTRATION

University Archives and Records Center
University of Pennsylvania
3401 Market Street, Suite 210
Philadelphia, PA 19104-3358
215-898-7024 Fax: 215-573-2036

Name: _____

Institutional Affiliation (if applicable): _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

Subject of Research: _____

Do you object to having your name and information about your research topic made available to other scholars with related interests? No [] Yes []

The historical collections of the University Archives are open for research to all members of the University community, visiting scholars, and the scholarly public. Access is granted in accordance with the Protocols for the University Archives and Records Center, as published in the Almanac, January 23, 1990. Attorneys who wish to obtain access to the Archives for non-academic research purposes must put their request for access in writing; the request will be reviewed by the University’s Office of General Counsel. Researchers are expected to adhere to the following regulations in using, quoting or publishing material from the University Archives’ collections:

- | | |
|---|---|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. All material is to be handled with care and may only be used in the University Archives’ reading room. 2. Eating and drinking are prohibited in the reading room. Please make personal phone calls in the hallway. 3. Pencils only are permitted, no pens. Laptops and tablets are permitted as is the use of digital cameras and smartphones to take pictures; please disable the flash. 4. Documents are to be maintained in the exact order they are arranged in each file. If a document appears to be out of order, please notify an Archives staff member. Do not rearrange the documents yourself. 5. No marks or erasures may be made to any documents. Please use the non-adhesive strips | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> provided to mark pages for photocopying or digital reproduction. 6. All photocopying is done by Archives staff. The University Archives reserves the right to refuse reproduction requests which are deemed unreasonable or which threaten the preservation of material. 7. Photocopies and digital reproductions are provided for scholarship and research purposes only in accordance with United States copyright law (U.S. Code, Title 17) and may not be further reproduced. 8. Supplying a photocopy or digital reproduction or permitting items to be photographed is not an authorization to publish. If publication of any material quoted or reproduced from the University Archives is desired an application for publication rights must be submitted. |
|---|---|

I have read the above conditions for access to the University Archives. I agree to observe them and understand that violation of any of the above regulations will serve as cause to prohibit my continued use of University Archives materials.

Signature: _____ Date: _____